Instructions on Checking Continuing Education Credits

You can review your continuing education transcript in one of these ways:

1. On the Sircon home web page, click on the Individual Agents box. The Products for Individual Agents page will open.
2. Under the section entitled Quick Links, click the Look Up Education Courses/Credits link.
3. Click the Continuing Education Transcript Inquiry link.

The screenshot displays the Sircon.com website interface. At the top left is the Vertafore logo with the tagline "Unleash your potential". A navigation bar contains links for "Products", "Services & Support", "News & Events", "About Us", and "Contact", along with a "SUBSCRIBER LOGIN" button. The main content area features a "Quick Start for agents & agencies" sidebar on the left and a central banner for "The new Sircon.com" with the tagline "Same great service with a whole new wardrobe." Below the banner is a "TAKE A TOUR" button. A yellow circle and arrow highlight the "Individual Agents" section in the "Quick Links" area. This section is titled "Individual Agents" and contains the text: "Whether you're an agent, adjuster, broker, or CSR, we're here to help by providing easy-to-use licensing services that help you get back to the most important business of all - your clients. See how we can help you." Below this text is a "More information >" link. Other sections visible include "Carriers", "Agencies", "Educators", and "State Regulators", each with their own descriptions and "More information >" links. A "State Information Center" header is also present on the right side of the page.

Requirements

Resident Intermediary Indv

Requirement	Required Hours*	Applied Hours	Remaining Hours	Status
Ethics	3.0	4.0	0.0	Compliant
Total	24.0	20.0	4.0	Pending

All resident Insurance Intermediary licensees (agents) who hold one or more major line qualifications or the limited line of automobile are required to meet continuing education requirements every two years, by their license expiration date. 24 credit hours, three of which must be in ethics of insurance, must be completed every two years. All required credits must be BANKED by the expiration date or the license will be cancelled.

OCI sends CE status letters 90 days prior to the current license expiration date if the requirements have not been satisfied.

Carry over credits are not allowed. Credits cannot be separated into more than one reporting period. You will not receive credit for courses completed prior to your original license activation date, and no CE credits are provided for required prelicensing courses taken prior to passing the licensing examination.

Credits are earned in the period in which the course was completed and can be completed on-line, in a classroom environment, or both. You may complete any Wisconsin-approved course to satisfy your CE requirement regardless of your line(s) of authority.

Exemptions: Licensees are exempt from continuing education requirements if they fulfill one of the following requirements:

- A licensee who only holds Credit, Crop, Legal Expense, Surety, Title or Travel qualification.
- Non-resident licensees are exempt from continuing education requirements.

Note: Many state insurance departments are in the process of streamlining the administration of the continuing education for insurance providers and producers. Education providers are now electronically reporting course completions to the state for your continuing education credit. During this transition period, you may see a status of "waived" for your continuing education requirements on your continuing education transcript. A "waived" status does not mean necessarily that you do not have to complete your continuing education requirements -- you must complete your continuing education requirements, unless the insurance department has exempted you. If you have questions or concerns, please contact the appropriate state insurance department.

6. To view the transcript from another state or to change other search criteria, click the Revise Inquiry button.
7. When you are finished, click the Cancel button.

The Individual Producer Services - Education Inquiries menu page will re-open.
