How To Print Your License

Once you have a license number you may print your license.

We strongly recommend you save your license for printing again, as only one license print is allowed from this system per license change—such as a license renewal or address change. The license is displayed on the screen in a PDF file format. Simply click the floppy disk icon at the top left of the license, or on the File menu and select Save As. A good place to save the license is on your desktop.

Notice: The West Virginia Insurance Department does not print and mail paper licenses.
